MR. WINTER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. 1 John 2 Winter, for Defendants. 3 I would like to introduce my colleague, Joe Tanner, 4 from the Faegre firm, who is joining as a co-liaison counsel 5 here. 6 THE COURT: That was one thing I wanted to raise. We 7 have been trying to leave time for responses on just about 8 every motion that's passed through. 9 I know that, if I understand the purposes of adding the four additional co-counsel as liaison counsel, it's to try 10 11 to handle the remands, I assume. 12 MR. WINTER: Yes, Your Honor. 13 I don't truly want to build in the time. THE COURT: 14 Am I correct in assuming that the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee has no objection to the expansion with four 15 liaison counsel for the Defendant? 16 17 MS. FULMER: That's correct, Your Honor, the Plaintiff has no objection. 18 THE COURT: I couldn't imagine what it would be, but 19 I've been surprised before. Okay. I will grant the motion to 20 add co-liaison counsel. 21 22 Welcome aboard, Mr. Tanner. 23 MR. TANNER: Thank you, Your Honor. 24 THE COURT: I do have your joint status conference 25 agenda. We are, in some ways, looking at moving targets. Ι

1 know things are happening pretty quickly.

2 Ms. Hanig, you're usually the one who gives us the 3 active case count.

MS. HANIG: Yes, Your Honor.

5 We're at -- our count is 326 for what's actually 6 active, unsettled, and on the MDL docket, and, just as a 7 caveat, that takes out cases that have been transferred and 8 you've actually closed the case.

9 THE COURT: Okay. We're actually back up by three. I don't know if you got the notice. You probably have, but may 10 11 not have seen it yet. The Panel has received objections to three of the remands, and those are the three that we knew were 12 13 at issue, because at least it looked to me like they were 14 trying to go back to courts where they hadn't been before. We'll see what the Panel does with it, but the Panel's letter 15 to the transferee judge says that they're still mine, so we may 16 17 be back up to 329.

18 I know we seem to have been the most popular kids on 19 the block the day before we cut off direct filings.

How many new ones did he get?

MS. DARRAH: We received forty-four on the 31st.

THE COURT: Okay. So we have a lot of fresh faceswith us on the docket.

That leads to the discovery update. Let me ask you to go ahead with the update on Group 6 and Group 7, and then we

1	need to talk about whether we need more than that.
2	MS. HANIG: Sure. I'll handle Group 6, and then I'll
3	let Mr. Winter talk to you about Group 7.
4	THE COURT: Okay.
5	MS. HANIG: So, Group 6, current status, is moving
6	along smoothly. I know we have until end of February, 2019 to
7	complete.
8	The couple situations where we've had issues with
9	scheduling or responsiveness from Plaintiffs have been teed up
10	by motion and are listed on this agenda. So, for example,
11	there's two pro se cases where Plaintiffs have been
12	unresponsive that's the Nicholson and the Pendlebury
13	cases and we moved on those cases, as suggested at the last
14	status conference.
15	And, then, in the Gronning case, where we have
16	counsel potentially moving to withdraw, we also filed a motion
17	for order to show cause there, and I believe you guys have
18	already set that for hearing next week.
19	THE COURT: Right.
20	MS. HANIG: So, that takes care of the three cases
21	with issues, and, otherwise, we're moving forward smoothly.
22	THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Winter, Group 7?
23	MR. WINTER: Your Honor, in Group 7, we have to
24	confer with the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee to make sure
25	we're apples to apples on Group 7. But, to give Your Honor a

1	little bit of perspective, there were 121 cases filed in 2018,
2	which would be, sort of, the dangling participle, a lot of
3	this. We have completed the Plaintiffs' fact sheets in
4	forty-three cases, and there are seven with overdue fact
5	sheets, which leaves us with, approximately, eighty cases after
6	we probably finalize Group 7. There are a few cases where we
7	need to confer as to whether or not resolution, in fact, has
8	occurred, so we want to give you a tight list for Group 7. I'm
9	thinking we'll get the proposed list to our colleagues this
10	week, with a target to give you a Group 7 list at the end of
11	this month, or, you know, next Friday when we submit the
12	proposed list for the second remand group.
13	Just to flag this for Your Honor, I think, given the
14	time for people to submit fact sheets, we're probably looking
15	at a cleanup Group 8 starting sometime in early 2019.
16	THE COURT: Now, the 121, you said, 124
17	MR. WINTER: Yes.
18	THE COURT: does that include our brand-new
19	arrivals?
20	MR. WINTER: Yes, it does, Your Honor.
21	THE COURT: Okay. We counted about 169, so I'll look
22	forward to seeing your list, and we can compare notes. 169
23	sounded like you might need one more discovery group. But if
24	you have got your fingers on the pulse
25	MR. WINTER: Yeah. Your Honor, if it turns out

1	there's, like, an extra forty cases, then we'd need two groups
2	after that, because Group 7, now, is looking to be something
3	around sixty
4	THE COURT: Okay.
5	MR. WINTER: which is big but pretty much in line
6	with what we've done in the past. We would then have to split
7	8 and 9, then.
8	THE COURT: Mr. Ward or Ms. Fulmer, anything to add
9	on the discovery update on Groups 6, 7, and potentially 8?
10	MS. FULMER: I don't believe so, Your Honor. We're
11	anxious to meet and confer with the Defense so that we can come
12	up and make certain that we have a matching list.
13	I'm hoping that the forty or so cases difference
14	between the 121 and what the Court shows, some of those might
15	have actually been cases that resolved recently and just
16	haven't been dismissed yet.
17	We certainly are fine with the timetable that's been
18	proposed by Mr. Winter, as far as sending the Court a list for
19	the Group 7 list, and agree that there's probably a Group 8
20	that needs to be activated for discovery early next year.
21	THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, ma'am. I thought we
22	might have settlements that haven't quite wound there way into
23	our docket yet, that that might be the case, but, on the other
24	hand, we show 169, and that seemed worth mentioning.
25	Remand procedure. We've got Group 1 issued, Group 2

1	list. I think you may have touched on that.
2	MR. WINTER: Your Honor, one of your orders gave us,
3	the parties, till September 28th to submit a proposed remand
4	Group 2 list to you. We will send what we think is the right
5	list to our colleagues this week, so I think we should be able
6	to meet that deadline of next Friday for the proposed remand
7	Group 2, and I think you then built in another thirty days for
8	anyone to object.
9	THE COURT: Yeah, October 29th we show as the
10	deadline for objections.
11	Hold on just a minute.
12	(Discussion held out of reporter's hearing.)
13	THE COURT: Okay. We may not yet have assembled all
14	the nuts and bolts on Group 7. So when you folks talk about
15	Group 7 between the two sides, if you can try to figure out
16	what would appropriate deadlines be, I'll work with that, then.
17	MR. WINTER: Yes, Your Honor.
18	THE COURT: Okay. Anything to add to the report for
19	the Steering Committee on remand procedures, Group 1 and
20	Group 2?
21	MS. FULMER: I don't believe so, Your Honor.
22	MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.
23	THE COURT: Pro se cases. Again, this is where we're
24	looking at, sort of, a moving target.
25	I see that the Defense, today, filed the motions to
25	I see that the Defense, today, filed the motions to dismiss on Nicholson and Pendlebury for discovery violations. 1 2 My understanding is that Mr. Pendlebury has been 3 refusing our mail. 4 But with respect to Ms. Nicholson, I think I'm going to tack on just a brief explanation, if she fails to respond, 5 that dismissal may be entered against her, much like we do in 6 other types of pro se cases, though not all types. 7 We also show -- and I think you may have touched on a 8 9 couple of these, Ms. Hanig -- Soustek, Edwards, and -- I can't even read my own writing here. Let me see if I can find it. 10 11 Soustek indicates that the July status conference -- this is 15CV358. We asked for a joint status report on the pro se 12 case. None was filed. I don't know if that means it was 13 14 resolved. Mr. Stowsteck was in Discovery Group 3. Discovery was completed before his attorney withdrew, so we should be in 15 the suggestion of remand, from what it looks like to us. 16 17 MS. HANIG: I think that's correct, Your Honor. I know that that case is still pro se and that case-specific 18 19 discovery is complete. The only case that I show as pro se where we have an 20 21 issue with case-specific discovery not being complete and there is no motion filed would be the Rice case, where, I believe, 22 23 either at the last conference or one before, you set the 24 deadlines for the filing of the declaration of intent to 25 proceed and then also a deadline for the expert causation

1	declaration, and we've passed the first deadline and haven't
2	received anything.
3	THE COURT: Okay. I did want to ask whether the
4	Steering Committee has the same information on Rice, that the
5	declaration of intent was due on September 6th and was not
6	presented, just in case they sent it to you.
7	MS. FULMER: To my knowledge, we have not heard from
8	that Plaintiff, so that is correct, Your Honor.
9	THE COURT: Okay. The other ones we have:
10	Edwards versus Biomet and I issued an order
11	yesterday Mr. Edwards wanted the stay continued to give him
12	time to find opposing counsel. It looks like discovery was
13	completed before his attorney left, so I wasn't sure what we
14	were staying, under those circumstances, so I just reminded him
15	of the deadlines and gave him time to notify us by
16	October 29th, whether he was going to be proceeding pro se or
17	without counsel.
18	And then Hamm versus Biomet, 14CV1693, I think
19	somebody at the July status conference said that Biomet had
20	received the release and the case was settled. We haven't had
21	any paperwork find its way here.
22	Has there been a problem?
23	MR. WINTER: There's no problem there, Your Honor.
24	THE COURT: Okay.
25	MR. WINTER: I don't want to say, "The check is in

1	the mail," but it's in that situation. And once Mr. Hamm gets
2	the check and confirms he's received it, we'll figure out how
3	we file the dismissal with him.
4	THE COURT: Okay. All right. I know there's a lot
5	of moving parts on these. I just try and be sure we're all on
6	the same page.
7	Anything else to report on the pro se cases?
8	MS. HANIG: Not from Biomet's end, Your Honor.
9	THE COURT: And I should tell you, the reason that we
10	set the hearing next week in the one case where the Plaintiff
11	has been unable to contact his attorney, I wanted to take one
12	last shot at getting the attorney here to talk about what the
13	problem is. If the attorney doesn't show up, then I guess we
14	cross that bridge.
15	Anything else from the Plaintiffs to report on the
16	pro se cases?
17	MS. FULMER: I don't believe so, Your Honor.
18	Although, I do have a question.
19	Do you want the Steering Committee to participate in
20	the hearing that you set for next week?
21	THE COURT: I don't think it's required, it would be
22	necessary. I think the problem that they've had and correct
23	me if I'm wrong, from Biomet's standpoint the Plaintiff said
24	that she I think it's she hasn't been able to get her
25	attorney to respond to calls.

I assume Biomet's having the same issue. I can't remember what your motion cited.

3 MS. HANIG: So, it's sort of a complicated back and 4 forth, but, long story short, Plaintiff's counsel indicated to us that counsel intends to withdraw, but that hasn't happened, 5 and there's been a period of time that's elapsed in between. 6 7 And we needed to complete the depositions for Group 5, and that 8 didn't happen. And pro se Plaintiff actually has contacted us, 9 trying to move forward with the deposition, and we've had to tell him, "You need to talk to counsel. She hasn't withdrawn 10 11 yet," so we're in this boat where we're not quite sure what's 12 happening with the representation.

13 THE COURT: Okay. So I don't think it's essential 14 that you participate. If you do want to participate, certainly we can set up a phone call, but there's a possibility this 15 person will become a pro se Plaintiff following that hearing, 16 17 so I don't know if you want to join in or not. Just let us know, if you do, and we'll hook you up. And, if you choose not 18 to, that's fine, too. I don't think there's anything that you 19 would contribute that I would need to rule. It would just be 20 21 more informational. That's how it looks to me.

22Does that sound about right to the Steering23Committee?

24 MS. FULMER: Yeah, that's fine, Your Honor. 25 Although, in the past, we have helped pro se Plaintiffs find new counsel, so to the extent that we could be helpful in that 1 2 respect. I don't believe we've heard from this particular 3 Plaintiff directly. 4 THE COURT: Okay. Yeah. That's why I was thinking you might want to listen, but your role would not begin until 5 after the hearing, if the person becomes pro se, so it's your 6 7 call as to whether you want to join up on the call, but, again, I don't think it's critical for what I have to decide in that 8 9 hearing. I know you have helpfully put together things where I 10 11 owe you rulings, and I had hoped to have several of these ready 12 for you by today. I haven't been able to. 13 I show, or you show and I agree with, eight pending 14 statute of repose motions that became ripe on June 7th; two, four, six, seven pending statute of limitations motions that I 15 don't feel as bad about because they just became ripe on 16 17 September 10th. I show, on the pending spoliation motions, with 18 respect to Bruton, there's a response due Friday. With respect 19 to Babcock, the motion was withdrawn and re-filed on the 20 21 10th of September, so response is not due yet. And then in 22 Jeffers, the response is due Friday. 23 We have the motions regarding the Cuckler Defendants, 24 which became ripe on July 9th, except the last two listed here became ripe on September 10th, if I have that correct. 25

1	Finally, we have the motion to enforce the settlement
2	in Simpson that became ripe on the 6th of September, and then
3	Gronning, with a motion for order to show cause, and that's
4	what we're set for the hearing on.
5	Anything to add to that, from Biomet's standpoint?
6	MR. WINTER: Your Honor, with respect to Simpson, I
7	think, based on a communication with Mr. Ward, both sides would
8	like that set down for argument at the next case management
9	conference, if Your Honor will indulge the parties on that.
10	THE COURT: Okay.
11	MR. WINTER: And I think we're right on this,
12	Your Honor. One of the statute of limitations motions is
13	actually unopposed. I believe it is Eklund , 17CV639. And I'm
14	pretty sure, if I'm doing this right, from memory, Your Honor,
15	we've sent some submission in on or about the day that our
16	reply would have been due to say the motion is unopposed.
17	THE COURT: Okay. All right. Then I should be able
18	to get to that more quickly.
19	MR. WINTER: Thank you, Your Honor.
20	THE COURT: From the Steering Committee's standpoint,
21	is there anything to add or correct, as far as my
22	understanding, as to what we've got out here?
23	And, Mr. Ward, if you could confirm, or, I guess,
24	disagree, the request for the argument on the Simpson case at
25	the next status conference?

1	MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor. Number one, I confirm
2	what my Defense counsel colleague has reported on the Simpson
3	case; and, number two, there are no additions that we have to
4	the cases that you've articulated with regards to the various
5	different agenda items, main agenda items.
б	THE COURT: Okay. All right. Thank you, sir.
7	I kind of filled in mine as we went along.
8	Anything further for Biomet?
9	MR. WINTER: No, Your Honor.
10	THE COURT: Or for the Steering Committee?
11	MS. FULMER: No, Your Honor.
12	THE COURT: Okay. I feel bad about owing you this
13	many rulings. They've all come in at once. I'll try and send
14	them out, perhaps, a little less at once.
15	For the next conference what are we on here?
16	We're on the 19th. For the next conference, how about the
17	24th of October?
18	(Telephone interruption.)
19	THE COURT: Something is happening on the line and I
20	don't know what it is.
21	I can give you the 24th of October or the 8th of
22	November. I guess the 8th of November might make more sense
23	because the objections to Remand Group 2 would not be due by
24	October 24th.
25	MR. WINTER: I think the November date probably makes

1	more sense, Your Honor.
2	THE COURT: Okay. Does that work? Any other
3	thoughts on that, for the Plaintiffs?
4	MR. WARD: I'm fine with the 8th.
5	MS. FULMER: The 8th would be preferable. I'm not
6	available on the 24th, so the 8th would be preferable for me.
7	THE COURT: Okay. If we set it for 1:15 on the
8	8th of November, does that work for everybody?
9	MR. WARD: You say 1:15?
10	THE COURT: That's what I'm proposing.
11	MR. WINTER: November 8th works for the Defendants,
12	Your Honor.
13	MR. WARD: Yes, and that works for Plaintiff, as
14	well.
15	THE COURT: Okay. Let me mark it down here.
16	You folks probably already know this, but if I've got
17	it figured right, the objections to the conditional remand
18	order normally, the Panel holds its hearings on the fourth
19	Thursday of an odd-numbered month, which would be next week,
20	and I don't think that they can get it before the Panel in that
21	period of time, so, in all likelihood, it will be the fourth
22	Thursday in November, which falls on Thanksgiving, so it would
23	either be the week after Thanksgiving or the following week,
24	before the Panel would be able to take it up, so I think those
25	three cases will stay with me for a time, and it will be

1	interesting to see what they do.
2	Anything further for the Plaintiffs today?
3	MS. FULMER: No, Your Honor.
4	MR. WARD: Nothing, Your Honor.
5	THE COURT: Anything for the Defense?
6	MR. WINTER: No, Your Honor. Thank you.
7	THE COURT: Thanks, folks, and thanks for your work
8	on the case, moving these cases with the remands. I appreciate
9	it.
10	And welcome to the extra help.
11	LAW CLERK: All rise.
